ABOUT AAMAS

AAMAS, founded in 1994, is a non-profit Association. Originally named the National Medical Cost Containment Association, the name was changed to the American Association of Medical Audit Specialists in 2000, to better reflect the goals of the association. AAMAS is an international organization, with a steadily growing membership. It was established for the purpose of providing networking and educational forums to address the ongoing and complex requirements of healthcare reimbursement, coding, and compliance issues. AAMAS also promotes excellence and visibility to its members by providing the ability to earn the designation of Certified Medical Audit Specialist.

AAMAS actively promotes the revised National Health Care Billing Audit Guidelines.

AAMAS is run by an elected and appointed board of directors. Annual educational conferences are held each spring, with sites alternating in different areas of the United States. AAMAS is able to provide nursing CEUs as well as CMAS units for CMAS credentialing renewal.

CERTIFIED MEDICAL AUDIT SPECIALIST (CMAS)

AAMAS promotes excellence and visibility to its members by providing the ability to earn the designation of Certified Medical Audit Specialist (CMAS), offered since 2000.

The CMAS designation demonstrates an acquired body of knowledge and expertise in the field of medical audit. Through professional certification, legitimacy is bestowed upon a body of work and a separate and unique entity becomes established. In addition, the profession is able to establish a code of conduct, standards, and expectations for behavior.

Certification of medical auditors as specialists provides a standard set of expectations for employers and provides a quality assurance mechanism for the establishment of formal medical audit programs.

CERTIFICATION REQUIREMENTS

To be eligible to take the CMAS certification examination, an applicant must be a current member of AAMAS; must have two years of authenticated health care audit experience (at least 20hrs/week minimum); and, must have two years of health care experience. Educational requirements are set for a minimum of 60 college semester units or be a licensed healthcare professional. Also required is one college level and/or Certification Council approved course in accounting, finance, mathematics or statistics.
